Introduction

Globethics.net is organizing a series of three international online conferences on the theme “Towards Sustainable, Knowledge and Ethical Societies - The Contribution of Higher Education Institutions”. Conference 2- “Shaping Knowledge Societies through Higher Education” (India/Asia) was conducted on 15-16 June 2022 from 9.30- 12.30 CEST/ 13.00-16.00 India time. This was a joint venture of Cebu Technological University, Cebu Province, Philippines, CHRIST (Deemed to be University) Delhi – NCR, India and Globethics.net India based in Bangalore, India.

Day 1

Day 2

“SHAPING KNOWLEDGE SOCIETIES THROUGH HIGHER EDUCATION” (INDIA / ASIA)

After the announcement, we got an overwhelming response and received 16 abstracts and full-length papers from across the country and abroad. All the papers had gone through a rigorous review process. And our review committee finally selected 8 papers for presentation. Around 350 participants across the world attended and participated in the conference. The conference includes paper presentations, workshops, key note panels and symposiums on a variety of topics to understand and review the best practices in Shaping Knowledge Societies through Higher Education.

As human beings are social beings, knowledge is generated and shared through a collective effort and is for the well-being of all. We are members of “Knowledge Societies” who generate, communicate and make available knowledge that brings justice, solidarity, democracy, peace, and well-being to all members of society.

The tone of the two days conference was set by Ms Rajula V National Officer, GE India. The opening remarks of Rev. Fr. Jose Nandhikkara, the National Director of Globethics.net India was on the great wisdom, thought and initiative that is behind this three-conference series. Then we listened to the thematic talk by Monsignor Prof. Dr. Obiora Ike, the executive director of Globethics.net, Geneva, Switzerland. The keynote address was delivered by Rev. Dr Christoph Stuckelber, the founder and Director of Globethics.net, followed by a talk delivered by Dr Meera Baindur, the Associate Professor at RV College, Bengaluru. We had Fr. Viju P D, the Dean and Director of Christ (Deemed to be University), Delhi – NCR to felicitate the event. Later, Prof. Dr. Julio Durand, the Academic Secretary at the University of Austral, Argentina shared some of the highlights of the first conference that was led by Globethics.net. South America region. We had two reactors, Dr Amele Ekue, the Academic Dean, Globethics.net, Geneva, Switzerland and Dr Bejay Bolivar, the Director for Curriculum and Planning, Cebu Technological University, Philippines. There were four research paper presentations by Dr Dennis P McCann, from the Philippines, Prof.Dr. Benoit Girardin, from Geneva, Switzerland and James Coder from North Carolina respectively.

On day two, Prof.Dr. K. Pushpanadham, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S.University of Baroda, Gujarat, India delivered a talk on the topic “The Future of Learning in Higher Education: Global Trends”. Later, the second talk on “Ethical issues in educational research management and practice” was delivered by Dr Tony Sam George, Dean, School of Social sciences. To discern the role of research Ethics in Higher Education, Dr Luis Miguel, Portugal Adjunct Professor, at the Centre for Comparative Studies of the University of Lisbon, Portugal delivered a talk on the theme, Shaping Knowledge Societies: Social Responsibility as a core contribution of Higher Education Institutions.

There were four paper presentations by Dr Prof. Dennis P. McCann, from the Philippines, a joint paper by Sandra Posada-Bernal and her colleagues from Colombia, Rr. CREATIVE CORNER

The God That Was Tied Up

- Mithun Ram

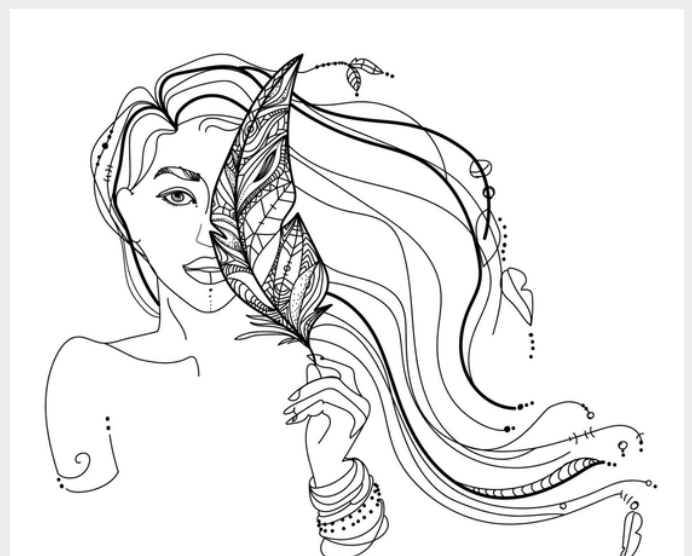

At the brink of day
Before the sky was on fire
Darkness all over
The distant sounds
The birds calling, metal clanging
Engines roaring and devotees praying
As the cold wind blew by
It carried a beautiful lullaby
One of a God to her child Narrating the rules she was meant to abide
With the pain of marriage deep inside
To serve people she always dreamt
To rid them of the pain that all felt
The man looked at her with pride and guilt Crushed by tradition she had been Her ambitions never to be seen
But that was never the end of the scene
As time went on and years went by
There was a change in the lullaby Now she was a God who saved many
One who did it for the dream not the money
When the flames took over the sky
She looked up and smiled
Thanking the gods and her consort
As they did not deny

MEDEA

- Vaishnavi Vinay

The Night arrived to seize the star Silhouette of the grey fox with silver eyes
Lantern at the river swaying side to side
Through that evil gloom she made her way Shining like a dying ember and colors of phosphenes
In those dark eyes was the vigor of eternal hearth
Her hair bone white, a flowing pale cascade
Her bosom companions, deception and treachery
She stole things no one would miss
Like hope, time and sleep

Towards the moon in contemplation
All she loved, she loved alone
She sewed nightmares and daydreams
Nights were heavy but drowning within her so easy
She was not modest, frail or pliant
She was wild and minacious
A conflict of beauty and wisdom
The poisoned words and shattered chalice
The sweet comfort of crimson wine
The poisoned spike right in the heart
To kill the love which never dies
