School of Business and Management (SBM)

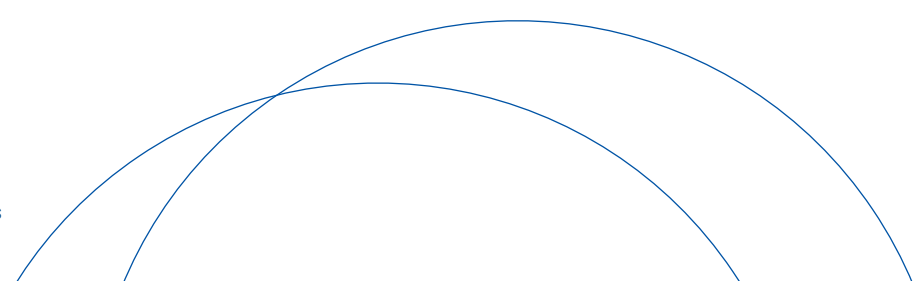

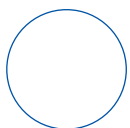

The School of Business and Management offers undergraduate, graduate, and research programs. Our campus is located in Delhi-NCR, and we are unique among business schools in India for our scale of operations, diversity, and affordable tuition. Our hallmark is hands-on learning through live projects, internships, service learning, and holistic education through co-curricular and extracurricular activities. In our MBA program, we provide experiential learning through cases from Harvard and other top business schools.

Our curriculum includes research-based assignments and opportunities for self-learning, which supports students in lifelong learning. We also incorporate external inputs from corporate executives to prepare students for careers in the industry. Our strong alumni network is a valuable asset in this regard. We update our syllabus annually to be agile and stay current in a dynamic environment.

We specialize in developing grounded individuals with ethical sensitivity and a sense of social responsibility. Our faculty have a blend of industry and academic experience, and they keep up with the times by publishing regularly in Scopus-indexed and other top journals. I invite you to explore the School of Business and Management's webpages on the portal, which outline our faculty's credentials and highlight our activities.

Events at School of Business and Management (SBM)

CIMA

CIMA stands for “Christ Institute of Management Association,” a flagship association dedicated to the events organized and managed by the MBA students of the School of Business and Management Christ (Deemed to be University) Delhi NCR. This Association consists of several Domain and Non-Domain clubs like Analytics Club, Marketing Club, Finance Club, HR Club, Industry Connect & Sports and Cultural Club. The sole purpose of this Association and the clubs under it is to organise and conduct events & activities that help the students who are organizing and those participating in the events get a chance to develop their interest and knowledge in their respective fields of interest and industry they like. The Association also provides a platform for all the students to connect with various industry professionals and experts from multiple industries, allowing them to increase their knowledge and skills essential for working in various industries.

Marketing Conclave

Marketing conclave was organized at Christ (Deemed to be University) on October 8, 2022, to promote critical and logical thinking among students. The conclave was held in the university auditorium and was attended by more than 10 corporate experts from various domains.

Shri Chander Sabharwal, who has over 50 years of experience in India's agriculture business, graced the inaugural session. He is currently the Managing Director of Crop Health Products Ltd (India). The conclave was majorly divided into two sessions. The first session was "The role of technology and innovation in marketing," and the second was "Society's inclusive growth and marketing's role."

It provided new insights into the changing needs of consumers and their behaviour, as well as the role of marketing in promoting positive thinking and change in opinion about consumers' needs and aspirations.

The Diagon Alley Carnival

"Chronos," the captivating intercollegiate event, spanned three exhilarating days within the college campus. The event brimmed with anticipation as various clubs orchestrated a myriad of engaging activities. Prior to the event's commencement, a whirlwind of internal and external promotions swept through the college grounds, creating an electric atmosphere. The campus pulsated with energy as students converged for mesmerizing flash mobs, showcasing their talents through dance, theatrical performances, and melodious singing. As the festivities unfolded, the School of Business and Management orchestrated "The Diagon Alley Carnival," a vibrant addition that added an extra layer of excitement. Within its bustling stalls, a tantalizing array of food stalls, captivating game booths, charming photo corners, and enchanting music sessions awaited attendees, ensuring that "Chronos" remained an unforgettable and immersive experience for all.

ThinkHR

The HR Club hosted an event named “ThinkHR” for students from all the schools of the University. The event focused on basic HR concepts and was a fun and interactive learning experience. In the first round, participants created their own fictitious company and made an advertisement to attract job applicants. They highlighted the company’s lucrative opportunities and policies to make their posters more appealing. The best posters advanced to the second round.

In the second round, qualified participants were paired up and given a brainstorming situation or problem to solve. The teams worked together to come up with a solution and pitched it to the judges. The judges evaluated the solutions based on the HR concepts used, the pitch’s quality, and the solution’s uniqueness. The ThinkHR event was an excellent opportunity for students to learn about HR concepts and have fun doing it.

Fanalytics

The Analytics Club of the campus organized the “Fanalytics” competition as part of the Chronos event. The event was based on the Data Science Competition. Students from various colleges participated in the competition. There were two rounds in the competition, and each round lasted an hour. The first round involved managing the data that the Analytics Club provided. The participants had to visualize and interpret the charts and create at least three charts with interpretation using any platform. Based on these requirements, some participants were eliminated, and the top performers were promoted to the second round. The second round involved performing the predicted analysis and showing the judge the hard work from the first round. Everyone who attended the event received refreshments throughout. Following the contest, the judge shared his opinions and gave the club and participants insightful input.

Industrial Visits

The School of Business and Management arranged insightful industry visits for students, including visits to Mother Dairy, Yakult, Uno MINDA, and others. It was an incredibly delightful and knowledgeable experience as students better understood various industries' operations. These visits provided first-hand exposure to operational processes, from manufacturing to assembly, highlighting the integral role of each step. Students also gained insights into raw material procurement and product finalization. The core purpose of these visits was to enhance experiential learning and bridge the gap between theory and practice. These visits equipped students with practical insights and a deeper appreciation of industry operations by immersing them in real-world contexts.

International Conference

The International Conference on Sustainable Business Practices and Innovative Models aims to create an interactive platform for academicians, corporate executives, practicing managers, and scholars to share perspectives on the latest developments in finance and economic domains, as well as the impact of changing economic scenarios on various sectors of business and industry. It is expected that the conference outcome and recommendations will provide insightful directions for effective policies, plans, and strategies for banking, finance, economic, and business practices around the world in the near future.

Visit to India International Trade Fair

CHRIST (Deemed to be University), in collaboration with the National Stock Exchange (NSE) and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), participated in the enlightening event 'NIVESHAK KA AMRITKAAL' at the prestigious India International Trade Fair (IITF) held at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi. This event brought together notable institutions, including BSE, NCDEX, MCX, NSDL, CDSL, AMFI, ANMI, and CPAI, to provide a comprehensive learning platform on the complexities of the securities market.

Renowned speakers from various sectors of the securities market shared insights into India's financial economy, offering students a unique opportunity to engage directly with industry professionals. The presence of CHRIST University's educators and students at the 'NIVESHAK KA AMRITKAAL' stall highlighted the commitment to practical learning experiences.

NSE has provided tickets for up to 40 participants per time slot, facilitating this immersive learning experience. The event showcased CHRIST University's dedication to promoting a deeper understanding of the securities market and its pivotal role in India's financial landscape.

Research Symposium

The School of Business and Management organizes a Research Symposium, a celebration of knowledge and ideas annually. Final trimester MBA students presented their master thesis, sharing their learnings and insights with faculty and peers. The symposium was a space for students to showcase their work to external field experts respective to their specializations, who were impressed by the quality of the research presented. It is a testament to the school's commitment to academic excellence and its mission of creating leaders who will positively impact the world.

Back to School

Back to School is the official fresher's event organized by the School of Business & Management, Christ (Deemed to be University), Delhi NCR to welcome the junior batch of MBA students into the Campus. This event is organized by the seniors of the MBA batch to provide a platform for junior batches to showcase their talent and to interact with the management, faculty and their own peers in a relaxed setting. This event allows the junior batch to join for an evening to connect with the seniors and faculty members as they all come together to celebrate the start of a new chapter in the educational journey of the junior MBA batch.

Union Budget Panel Discussion

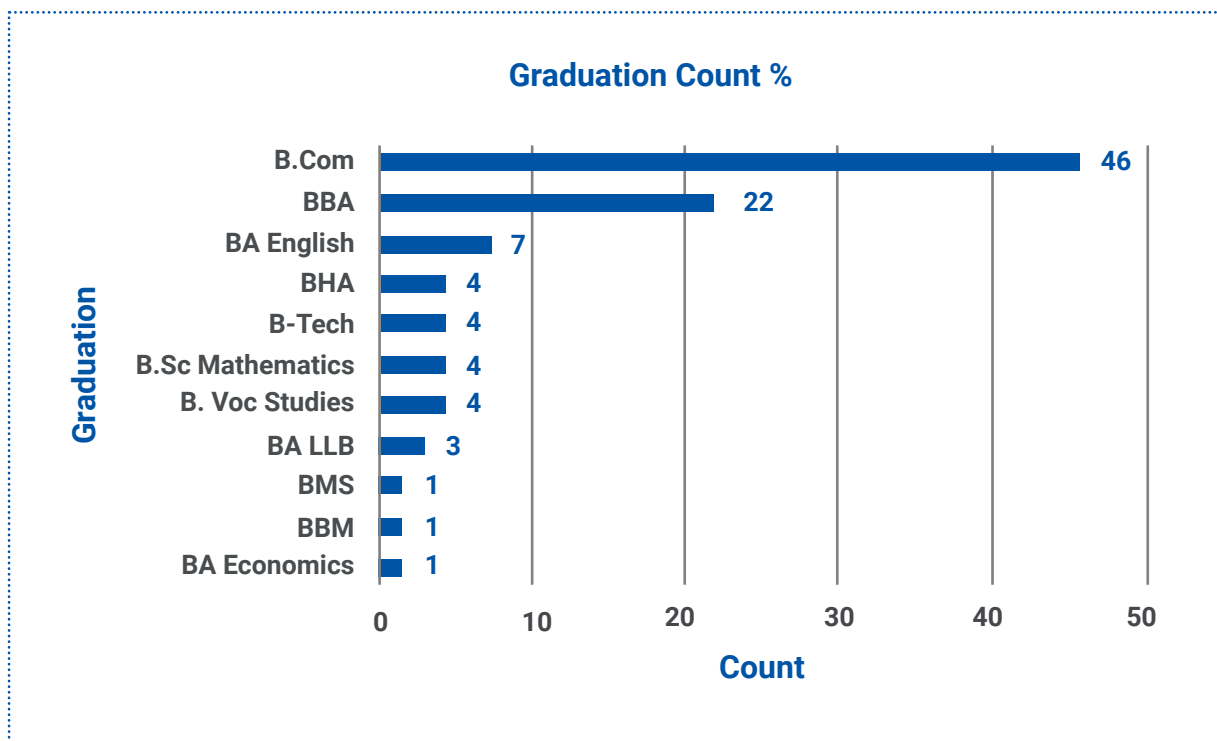

The Union Budget Panel Discussion is an engaging and educational event where students from various schools within our University come together to share their diverse views and opinions on the Union Budget of India. This event provides a platform for students to delve into the complexities of the budget, analyse its various aspects, and engage in thoughtful discussions.

During the discussion, each participating team is allotted a 15-minute to present their opinions and viewpoints. This time constraint encourages teams to articulate their ideas concisely and effectively.

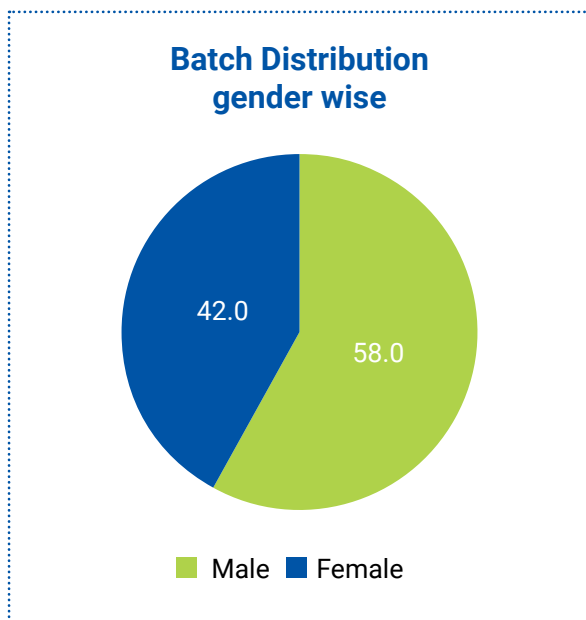

The panel discussion fosters a healthy exchange of ideas and encourages critical thinking among students. It helps participants develop their research, analytical, and communication skills by presenting well-informed arguments and engaging in constructive debates.

The event enhances participants' understanding of fiscal policies and economic management and encourages them to consider the broader implications of budgetary decisions on society, businesses, and the overall economy.

Finance

CHRIST (Deemed to be University) has been at the forefront of preparing students for the dynamic field of Finance which ultimately gave rise to a diverse array of specialised roles within investment and insurance firms, banks, venture capital enterprises, and other corporate establishments. This has opened too many challenges and opportunities for the students to find a suitable role that fits their individual abilities and interests. To effectively navigate these challenges, students undergo comprehensive training encompassing both classroom instruction and practical field experiences.

The Finance Club at the School of Business and Management is deeply engaged in augmenting classroom learning through a series of symposia, workshops, and the publication of the monthly finance newsletter, 'Money Mantra.' Furthermore, the club facilitates guest lectures and interactions with industry leaders, providing invaluable insights. A state of the art Finance Lab is available to the students at the campus through which they can leverage the Bloomberg terminal, enabling students to conduct thorough research, analyse business news, and dissect financial information. In addition, using NSE SMART, the trading platform of NSE Academy, empowers students to engage in real-time securities trading, fostering experiential learning without exposure to financial risk.

Through these initiatives, students are primed to not only grasp the intricacies of Finance in a simplified approach but also to excel in their chosen career paths. The merger of theoretical knowledge with hands-on experiences equips students to confidently embark on their professional journeys in the field of Finance.
