Participants: Faculty & Scholars

The School of Sciences organized a cluster-level workshop on August 11, 2023, aimed at fostering collaboration and enhancing the progress of Ph.D. scholars. The event commenced with a moment of silent prayer to set a reflective tone. Dr. Riya Baby, the Ph.D. coordinator, warmly welcomed all attendees, including the Head of the Department (HOD), Academic Coordinator, supervisors, Research Advisory Committee (RAC) members, and scholars. Her opening remarks set the stage for productive discussions. Initially, the scholars shared updates on their research progress and candidly discussed their challenges and issues. This open dialogue allowed for a comprehensive understanding of their research journeys. Supervisors addressed the various concerns raised by scholars and provided valuable feedback to help them overcome obstacles and refine their research approaches. Members of the Research Advisory Committee shared their perspectives on the scholars' research progress and offered additional tips and guidance on navigating their research effectively. Dr. Riya reiterated the importance of updating their individual files and maintaining accurate progress records, emphasizing the need for KP (Knowledge Portal) updates. Dr. Bosco Paul, the HOD, concluded the session with his insights on the RAC meeting and the overall progress of the scholars' research. His comments served as a valuable summary of the event. Dr. Riya Baby thanked everyone for their active participation and contributions to the session. With this, the session ended, providing scholars with valuable insights to further advance their research endeavors.

Major Takeaways of the Session:

1. Scholars gained insights into addressing research challenges.
2. Supervisors provided valuable feedback to refine research approaches.
3. RAC members offered additional tips and guidance for effective research navigation.
4. Emphasis on maintaining accurate records and timely updates.

Feedback and Action Taken:

The session received positive feedback from attendees, highlighting its informative content and relevance to their research journey. To further support scholars, the university plans to organize more orientations.
